

SUCCESSFUL RAIN MAKING DISCONTINUED

Cloud seeding, as a means of increasing rainfall in the foothills and adjacent valley area of south-eastern Tulare county and north-eastern Kern county has been discontinued by the Southern Sierra Corporation, according to an announcement this week by F. R. Farnsworth, president of the non-profit corporation.

Mr. Farnsworth states that since rain now would probably do more harm than good, corporation directors discontinued their contract with the Precipitation Control company of Phoenix, Arizona, as of April 15, and for the balance of the season will "let nature take its course."

While it is difficult to analyze results of cloud seeding after only a single season of operation, Mr. Farnsworth points out the following facts:

Weather Bureau figures show that moisture content of the air during the winter months ran only about 40 per cent of normal; estimated runoff of Kaweah and Kern rivers is only about 18 per cent of normal and snow pack on the Kings river water shed was only about 35 per cent of normal.

However, as of March 1, rainfall in the area covered by cloud seeding was about normal and the Shirley meadows country had nearly double the snowfall of the Huntington lake area. Late spring storms failed to materialize.

Mr. Farnsworth points out that with cloud seeding, no claim is made that storms can be created. Cloud seeding is simply a method of getting more rain out of certain types of storms that develop naturally.

Directors of the Southern Sierra corporation plan to meet soon to discuss plans for further cloud seeding activity next winter and spring.

Fishermen Ready And Optimistic As Season Opens

Topic of conversation is today rapidly shifting from politics, war and President Truman to — of all things — fishing, with practically everyone ready to pull in that limit of Rainbows Saturday morning, when the season officially opens at one hour before sunrise.

Crop of local fishermen will no doubt be augmented by several thousand visitors from southern California, and other areas and indications are that some good catches should be taken on opening day.

BIG EVENTS DRAW CROWDS

Two big, southeastern Tulare county events came off in good shape over the past weekend — the Lindsay Orange Blossom festival and the Springville Frontier Days and Rodeo.

The Festival attracted its usual large crowd with its fine, two-day program; the Springville celebration brought some 5,000 people to the community for the rodeo.

Featured at Lindsay was Movie Actor Tim Holt; actors who participated in the Springville show for benefit of the Springville Rehabilitation program, were Monte Hale, Tom London, Rex Bell and Hoot Gibson.

PEGGY LU KINYON BECOMES BRIDE OF R. S. GORDON, JR.

Bridal white in candles, large baskets of flowers and roses entwined in ivy on the communion rail, made a traditional setting when Miss Peggy Lu Kinyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Kinyon of the Springville area, became the bride of Mr. Ralph Semmes Gordon, Jr., of San Francisco. The nuptial mass was solemnized on Saturday, April 7, at 11 o'clock in the St. Anne's Church in Porterville with the Rev. Father Condon officiating.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white chapel length gown of embroidered organza over taffeta with tight-fitting bodice, scalloped boat neck, cap sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A very full white organza overskirt formed a sweep train. Her shoulder length veil was mounted on an eyelet cloche, matching her dress. She carried lilies of the valley and for something old, a white pear rosary which belonged to her maternal great-grandmother.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Harry L. Fisher of Visalia acted as matron of honor and the groom's sister, Miss Mary Virginia Gordon of San Francisco was maid of honor.

Mr. Ralph S. Gordon, Sr., of San Francisco, acted as best man for his son.

The ushers were Mr. Donald B. Johnson of Walnut Creek, Mr.

Ground breaking ceremonies to mark the beginning of construction were held at the plant site yesterday, with nearly 200 Southern California public officials, civic leaders and Edison company executives in attendance. The plant will be the third major steam-electric station built by the Edison company, ranking with the Long Beach and Redondo Beach

CULTIPACKERS

By Ralph L. Worrell
Farm Adviser

Many cotton growers have been wondering about the use of cultipackers, or toothed rollers, on their seedbeds after the seed has been planted. The primary purpose of this operation is to conserve soil moisture supplies.

Particularly is this advisable on sandy land, which loses moisture readily. It has been found that by firming down the surface of the soil less moisture will be lost by evaporation. The same thing is true of cloddy seedbeds, where the soil surface is frequently loose and allows ready opportunity for air movement in the soil, which dries it out faster.

Cultipacking should be done as soon as possible after the seed is planted. It is satisfactory to pull the implement lengthwise along the rows, instead of trying to cross them.

THE OLD DAYS

From miscellaneous files of pioneer Porterville newspapers, provided through the courtesy of Howard J. Frame, Porterville.

JULY 17, 1891

The time of the Tulare county board of supervisors was taken up most of the day yesterday in consideration of matters connected with an application to form a Tule River Irrigation district.

There were 38 petitions for exclusion from the district, of which 37 were granted, taking out a total of 8,000 acres. The matter will come up for final hearing July 28.

Following are the names of those whose land was excluded: T. E. Henderson, T. Bacigalupi, T. W. Janes, Thomas Plettes, C. Otto, M. Click, Sam Whaley, Mrs. A. E. Harper, C. W. Harper, Mrs. Catharine Curtis, J. C. Bigham, William Blankenship, Frederick Stone.

Hugh Vincent, L. N. Callison, W. A. Hunsaker, Michael Griffin, Felix McCabe, James Michael, Mahala A. Chrisman, Richard Teifisher, Lawrence Griffin, M. M. Janes, W. I. Janes, D. B. Moore, J. L. Nelson, Max Braverman, John F. Jordan.

Mrs. G. J. Hensley, J. W. McQuone, Frederick Steinman, Mrs. F. C. Hunsaker, John T. McCabe, P. M. Blankenship and J. R. Towery.

Harry Quinn received word last week that his sheep were in the hands of the soldiers at Sequoia Park. He wet up there in a hurry and fortunately found that the message had been exaggerated and they had simply been ordered off and the herders had complied with the order.

Harry says he has never seen so much snow at Farewell Gap, near Mineral King, for 18 years. In some places, he says, it is 50 feet deep.

The Tule river is running more water at present than is in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants, and still there is no sign of its diminishing. The north and middle forks are crowded with carp for 20 miles above Porterville.

News comes from Bakersfield that Sheriff Borgwordt returned from Kernville last night, bringing Indian Tom, who is now in jail there. The posse is still in pursuit of the remainder of Kiowa's band, but with poor prospects of finding them.

The mountains around Kernville are very rough and it is hard country for trailing Indians. Many other Indians in that vicinity have joined in the chase for the remnants of Kiowa's band, as

CUTTING INFLUENCES QUALITY OF HAY

Time of cutting hay influences greatly the quality. Farm Advisor Ralph L. Worrell, of the University of California Agricultural Extension service reports that different types of hay need to be cut in definite stages of growth.

With alfalfa, the highest quality of hay can be obtained only if the crop is cut in the early bud stage or some time before the plants come into bloom. At this stage, the stems are immature, and pliable, and the plants are leafy. However, the most effective time to cut, considering stand welfare, total yield, quality of hay, and total feeding value, is in the 1/10 to 1/4 bloom stage.

unfriendly feeling has existed between them for some time.

One of the renegades took Deputy Sheriff Power's badge and is wearing it, creating consternation among the friendly tribes by representing himself to be an officer and threatening arrest if they do not do as he says, thus aiding himself to escape.

J. T. Bearrs is going to put out 1,000 orange and 50 lemon trees on his 10-acre tract in the west field. Men are digging the holes now.

A special dispatch from Sacramento states that the coyote industry is flourishing. The impetus given it by the last legislature in offering a reward of $5 for each coyote scalp has had a wonderful effect and the bounties bid fair to bankrupt the state.

Prevention is the best control of Verticillium Wilt of olives, according to Farm Advisor Karl W. Opitz, who points out that any commercial treatment now known that will kill the wilt, also kills the trees. As a preventive measure, such verticillium susceptible crops as cotton and tomatoes should not be grown on land that is to be planted to olives.

For cereal hays, current opinion is that these should be cut in the "milk" stage if intended for dairy cows, and in the "dough" stage if intended for stock cattle or horses.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

THE FOLLOWING in response to last week's comments concerning MacArthur and Truman:

Dear Bill:

The American public, as a whole, has realized for some time that Truman is too little a man for his big job. Personally, I have defended him frequently, as you are still doing. But this is where we part, Billy boy. I'm ready to join the chorus, "He's a flop."

Yours most sincerely,

MARY SANDERS

P.S. By the way, it is the American people who are putting on the show.

Dear Mary:

We agree 100 per cent with your statement, "He's a flop." But in taking the isolated incident of the MacArthur firing, we'll still stand by last week's statement. Mr. Truman started to flop in military matters as soon as he became president and the current dangerous international situation results in great part from the policy of the present administration (and many of the people agreed) in rapidly demobilizing the world's greatest armed force at the end of World War II and converting it into a fourth-rate power. Had our demobilization been sensible, rather than emotional, it is probable that we would not now be faced with the necessity of rapidly building another powerful army and chances are, if we had retained sufficient and adequate military strength, we would not now be fighting in Korea. As a personal leader, Mr. Truman "has flopped;" as an administrator he has leaned heavily on political patronage; as a statesman, he fails to qualify. So far be it from us to argue with you. And thanks for the note.

BILL RODGERS

Before graduating from the University of California, Earl found time to play outfield on the varsity baseball team; sang in the university glee club and played the saxophone around and about; also

BILLION DOLLAR YEAR SEEN FOR VALLEY AGRICULTURE

A billion dollar year in agriculture is being predicted for 1951 for the seven counties of the San Joaquin valley, with unrestricted production of cotton being the factor that is expected to bring the record figure.

The valley's agriculture value in 1950 was a record $974,734,080; broken down by counties into: Fresno, $285,169,167; Tulare, $196,819,459; Kern $186,454,739; Stanislaus, $100,420,584; Merced, $90,097,025; Kings, $58,832,106 and Madera, $56,941,000.

toured the Orient with the ball team and glee club. Earl's son, Twain, served a year in the navy — submarines — and is now studying architecture at Cal; his daughter, Mrs. Ray Drew, is in New York, where her husband, an ex-Marine, is studying at Columbia for a doctor's degree in paleontology. The mayor says he has no political ambitions — looks upon the city council and mayor's job as simply a civic duty. During his regime, with the help of the council and City Manager Harold Corbin, city hall departments have been reorganized and modernized; traffic lights have been installed on Main street; the garbage disposal system has been modernized, the tax rate has dropped during two successive years; the city has gone ahead with its park at Sunnyside and North Main and about a thousand other items of more or less civic importance have been taken care of. In his spare time, Earl has served as a Boy Scout commissioner; has made the Reserve Warden program and sportsmen activities a hobby and has served as president of the Porterville Rotary club. After all of which we can say that from where we sit, it appears that the city is in good hands.

Farmers Urged To Increase Grain Sorghums

California farmers are being urged to utilize every available acre to increase 1951 production of grain sorghums, with E. H. Spoor, chairman of the California PMA committee stating that indications are that unless farmers revise their planting plans, livestock feed production objectives will not be met.

State barley acreage is far below the production guide figure of 2,300,000 acres; a short wheat crop is in prospect and alfalfa acreage has decreased by approximately 140,000 acres.

Since grain sorghums are the only important remaining crop on which the seeding date will permit an increase in acreage, it is requested that every effort be made to obtain a 1951 acreage in excess of 190,000. Reduced to percentages, this would mean that every grower would have to increase his 1950 plantings by approximately 35 percent.

A price support program has been announced by the U. S. department of agriculture at the same level of parity at which the 1950 crop was supported. It is expected that 1951 support rates will be at least as high as last year. In this state the support rate varied by county from $2.32 to $2.47 per cwt. Tulare county's rate was $2.35 per cwt. for grain sorghums grading No. 2 or better.

Botulism Is Not Cause For Alarm If Proper Home Canning Methods and Precaution Used

Botulism is not a cause for alarm if proper home canning methods are followed. Help prevent botulism by canning only fresh firm fruits and vegetables that have been thoroughly cleaned. Use only meats, fish and poultry that are in sound condition for home canning. Use a pressure canner with a tested gauge for low-acid foods. Even then, boil all low-acid foods for at least 10 minutes before tasting.

Boil greens and cream-style corn even longer. Stir while boiling so that heat penetrates to the center of the food. At altitudes above 3,000 feet boil low-acid foods for at least 15 minutes and greens or cream-style corn 30 minutes. Boiling destroys the toxin produced by the growth of botulinus spores.

If there is any off-odor in canned food, do not taste it. Destroy it immediately. It is not always possible to tell that food will cause botulism by looking at it or smelling it. Never taste any canned food that is moldy, has a disagreeable odor, or shows any pressure in the can, jar or bottle. Always store any left-over low-acid foods in the refrigerator, even though they have been boiled. The toxin may appear again at room temperature.

A substantial volume of broccoli is still being cut in the Santa Maria and Salinas areas.

Cotton Growers Are Warned Against Pacific and Two-Spotted Mite Buildup

By Ralph L. Worrell,
Farm Advisor

Cotton growers throughout the San Joaquin Valley are warned by Gordon L. Smith, University of California entomologist, that the Pacific and Two-spotted mites are already building up in population in certain areas.

This is important to Tulare county cotton growers. It means they should take immediate steps to hold down outbreaks of these pests. The Two-spotted and Pacific mites within the last two years have become among the worst insect pests the cotton farmer has to fight. The best and most practical way of keeping them under control is to prevent the mites from building up in numbers. This is better than waiting until they have already infested the cotton fields and then trying to control them with expensive insecticides.

In observations which Mr. Smith has just completed in Fresno, Tulare, and Kern counties, it was found that the Two-spotted and Pacific mites had overwintered on a number of different types of weeds. From these weeds, the mites can be blown throughout adjacent cotton fields. The weeds which were particularly infested with the mites were malva or cheese weed, Johnson grass, bur clover, sunflowers, wild lettuce and sow thistle.

Cotton growers should take immediate steps to control these weeds wherever they are found, such as along fence rows, ditch banks and roadsides. They should be killed with chemicals or oils rather than by cultivation. Cultivating these weeds areas merely helps to spread the mites to other fields, whereas actually killing the weeds with sprays will help control the mites.

Studies of how environmental factors affect citrus pests and their natural enemies may ultimately make it possible to extend biological control into groves now receiving chemical pest control treatments.

This was indicated recently in a research report by Paul DeBach, entomologist, University of California college of agriculture.

AN EGG A DAY ADVISED FOR DIET

By Anna Price Garner
Home Advisor, State Office
An egg a day is a good rule especially when eggs are plentiful. This is the season of the year when eggs are plentiful, and we should try to include them in our daily diet. A table recently prepared by the Agricultural Extension service shows that eggs are currently cheap, as a protein food, since large eggs selling at 63c per dozen are equivalent to 40c per pound.

There are very few of our top class protein foods which approach this cheaper price. Eggs rank with meat and milk for building and repairing body tissue. Eggs contain 5 different vitamins to help protect our health as well as being rich in iron for building red blood cells.

We should serve eggs as eggs, or hidden in cooking. They are very good either way. We should remember to treat a good egg right by storing it properly. The rules are: Clean, covered and cold. Eggs should be stored in the refrigerator or other cold places. Eggs stored at room temperature may lose as much quality in 3 days as those kept 2 weeks in a good refrigerator.

When you cook eggs, whether you are cooking them in water, in the frying pan or oven, the first and fundamental rule is to cook them with low, moderate even heat.

You'll find it simple to paint your tables and chairs if you follow these suggestions. Be sure that you're using the right paint . . . preferably one that won't water-spot or "chalk" . . . so the job will last.

This is particularly important when you're painting outdoor furniture that will be subjected to sunshine and garden watering. Of course, all painted furniture should be completely washable. So . . . be sure to ask your paint dealer's advice.

How To Paint Furniture

It's easy to paint furniture if you follow a few simple suggestions. A color consultant and a painting authority, has given a few hints that I'll pass along.

When painting tables and chairs, begin with the legs. Place the chair or table upside down on a protected (from You) surface. Then paint from the legs downward. Brush the enamel lightly to insure a smooth finish.

Next turn the piece of furniture upright and finish the sides. Chair backs and broad surfaces come next. Paint your table tops and chair seats last.

SNOOPING

UNCLE FERD

AUNT LIZA

FERD AND LIZA were born in this community, in the hills down Deer Creek way. They are widely traveled, and full of information. They returned to Southern Tulare County as have many others because they like their feet in the dirt. Picture of Liza taken a few years ago when she taught for a spell. Picture of Ferd rigged out for the Rodeo-Fiesta.

Questions and Answers

Dear Aunt Liza: I've met a sophisticated, charming, man-of-the-world who is romantic and glamorous. I've always been the home-body type. My husband ignores me. This man is the Hollywood type and I want to accept his invitations. Should I? He is married . . . so am I.

Answer: My dear, just go right ahead and have fun! Nothing can come of your capers but scandal, divorce, and slander. Remember, words can never hurt you! If this man is willing to go out with you and other married women . . . he must be ignoring his wife too . . . so you will be getting even with your husband doubly.

Dear Aunt Liza: I belong to a church that seems to be split nearly every year by some kind of argument over members and policy; I'm afraid to take sides. What shall I do?

Answer: First, Sister, decide why you belong to the church. If only for worship . . . squabbles don't matter; if you go for the social life . . . you're missing the point of your membership unless you jump right in and fight with the rest.

Dear Uncle Ferd and Aunt Liza: I'm a working girl and my boss makes passes at me. I heard that if I quit I can't collect my unemployment insurance. Is that true? What shall I do?

Answer: If you can prove it . . . the law decides on each case separately and all things are considered . . . it is possible to collect.

UNCLE FERD

Think it over, Girly, it may be worth your while to play the boss along. After all, what bothers other girls may not annoy you too much. If you work it right you may do all right for yourself . . . or get the boss fired . . . and yourself too, then you know you can collect.

UNFINISHED ODE

Oh! to be in P'ville when round-up time is near!
To see those handsome cowboys, who sure can wink and leer!
We love to see their manly forms astride those bucking broncs,
But shed a tear when, waywardly, they enter honky-tonks!

Uncle Ferd, Aunt Liza New Column Featuring Questions And Answers

Readers have requested a question and answer service on these pages for months; we are happy to announce that we have finally secured the services of the proper people to conduct the department.

Uncle Ferd and Aunt Liza begin with this issue, a column that we are sure will please our curious readers.

They will answer any and all questions. Their fund of information is unlimited. Graduates of the University of California in the classes of '05 and '06 . . . Ferd and Liza are cosmopolitan, well-read, and widely traveled.

Readers are urged to send in their questions . . . all that are printable will appear. Ferd used to play a little ball, was pretty hot on the mandolin and Liza was noted far and wide for her china painting. They still own a complete set of The Book of Knowledge.

RECIPE WOES

That lemon pudding recipe sometimes plays tricks. First time I ever made it I had trouble. The answer is that it needs to be cooked longer or in smaller dishes. Also found they told me "fold" whites but meant "beat in" whites.

Reader told me the other day that it turns out best if cooked in custard cups rather than in one big pan. If you use a larger baking dish . . . cook it longer.

The week I printed the pound cake recipe I tried it myself for the first time this year . . . and it fell again. All I can figure out is that I may need to cook it longer too and use a larger pan.

Thing that beats me is that just about every-other time it's perfect! Far as I can tell I do everything the same every time. Will try it again this week with a bigger pan and longer cooking and let you know.

CLAUBES TO OPEN CUT-RATE STORE ON WEST OLIVE

Porterville business is continuing to expand. Claubes Pharmacy, Porterville's oldest drug business, still in the same family, will soon open a branch store on West Olive at Villa.

In 1909 Todd Claubes purchased the drug business that still bears his name. The family has continued at the store in the Pioneer Building, enlarging, remodeling, modernizing as the business has grown with the town.

It is hoped that the new "Claubes Cut-Rate," a cash and carry store, will be open about the first of May. Plans at present are for a variety stock, magazines, and drug sundries.

BARN THEATER STAGE WHISPERS

BUT — OH — WE GET SO TIRED DEPT.: After the rehearsal Sunday night, Max Denning tried to get the rest of the cast interested in adjourning for a cup of coffee. But they all just dragged themselves from the cots on which they had spent the better part of the day — too, too terribly bushed to do anything but hurry home to bed. Ah, well — maybe next time we can cast them to do a trapeze act or something, then we'll see how tired they get!

WHA' HOPPENED DEPT.: Kit (Sister Margaret) Tewksbury was deep in the throes of rehearsing a scene with Lachie (Max D.) and as part of the business flashed her flashlight around the beds in the ward — every single one was empty!! Nobody else has any lines toward the end of that act, so they just quietly sneaked out for a coke when her back was turned.

"THE HASTY HEART" OPENS MAY 3.

NEW STORE

Getting well under way is the new Justesen store, located on south Main street south of the Orange street intersection.

Shopping . . . with Betty

By Betty Scott

The universal desire to dress-up will be satisfied starting this Saturday when everybody will get rigged out in fancy clothes . . . for a full week. Cowboy, Mexican, and pioneer type costumes will be worn by everyone. What a blessing! Give us all a chance to catch up our regular clothes . . . chance to send our other skirt or suit to PROCTOR'S CLEANERS and put new life into the old duds. Proctor's give all clothes free "Retexing" that returns the spring to fibres and gives youth to fabrics. Proctor's at 4th and Putnam is the spot.

The first of my orchids that I sent for are blooming. The lady slippers that grow wild in the East will grow and bloom here! Grow where tuberous begonias do, where camellias, azaleas and such do . . . all they need is plenty of shade and water in a rich, acid soil with drainage. One blooming now is white shaded with pinkish marks. Now I've attained a life-time ambition! While we're on the subject of lady slippers . . . did you take your shoes to CARROLL'S SHOE SHOP, Division and Putnam. You'll enjoy dancing in the street when your shoes are comfortable.

Everybody reports that it was a fine time, at Springville last weekend, a grand doin's and everybody right in the spirit. Everybody also asks how the man got along who was hurt by the bull . . . everybody asks . . . nobody seems to know. With Porterville's round-up and fiesta ahead and the fair as well, call 107-W and make an appointment at FLORENCE PEAK'S BEAUTY SALON for a hair styling and permanent that will keep you comfortable while you have fun. Swimming season is rushing right along, are you ready?

Blood Banking Day is coming around again too. May 14, I hear, the day after Mother's Day . . . that's easy to remember. Plan now to leave time for a trip to the Blood Bank Monday, May 14 . . . free coffee, cookies and sandwiches too! If you haven't done your Mother's Day shopping, bustle right over to BREY'S BOOK SHELF. Marie has just received a shipment of glass ware that is the most beautiful I've ever seen. Pitchers, punch bowls, and fluted bowls are lovely shapes. The colors are amber, turquoise, and a true blue. This is the famous "Blenko" glass. The last copper ware available is at Brey's and two pottery pieces in a rare red glaze that only a potter can fully appreciate . . . the rest of you will love and admire it . . . I turn green with envy looking at it!

Have you read Uncle Ferd's and Aunt Liza's column? That daughter Peruna is a caution! She is the only different one in the family. You can see how sensible her parents are. They first noticed she was different when she ate a copy of Eddy Guest's poem in the 10th grade and began carrying a paper parasol in the rain because the Japanese are such an artistic people. That family and their column is worth watching, believe me! EDWARD'S PHOTOGRAPHY STUDIO didn't take the pictures you see over there. That's why they aren't very pretty pictures. Take your baby to Edward's next time he's being good. Call 1385-J and tell 'em you're on the way before he has a chance to get an ornery streak again (the baby, I mean.)

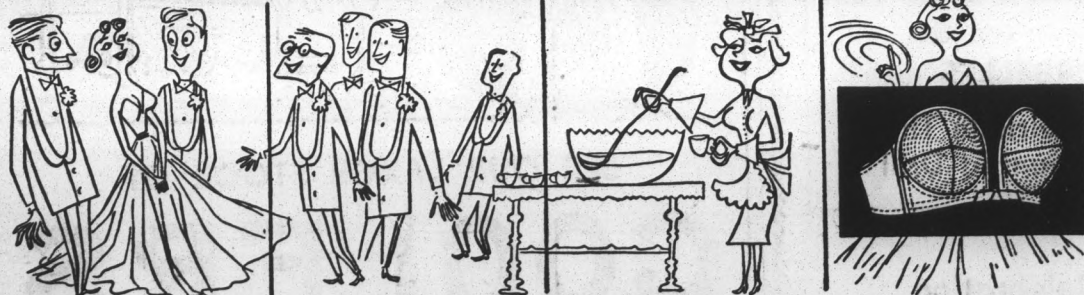

So far, the alarmists who were going to have ration books in all our hands by the first of March have been wrong. You can still build your own home too! Don't get in a swivet about shortages and other imaginary difficulties. Materials are available. Labor is still plentiful . . . the only thing the government requires is a larger down payment. Go into the BREY-WRIGHT LUMBER CO. today and talk it over with them. Complete building services for new homes and for remodeling are available.

To bad we don't have one of those earthquake measuring machines in this town. The joint is jumpin' and just about to split wide open, I hear. Dunno what it's all about . . . seems to be a remarkable lot of conferring, heads-togethering, and general buzzing. Been my observation in the past that such carrying-on usually winds up with somebody caught in the wringer. Let me know as soon as you find out what's up . . . Huh?

If every business in this town were as busy as THE PORTERVILLE PRODUCE, there'd be no time for shenanagans. Mrs. Steif has about run herself to a rag and a tatter waiting on the mobs. Here are a few of this weekend's specials . . . don't kill the poor woman in the rush. Asparagus 17c lb., Tomatoes (vine ripe) 20c basket; Radishes, 5c bunch; Green Onions, 2 bunches 15c; Carrots, 2 bunches 17c; Beets, 2 bunches 19c; Cabbage, 4c lb.; Fresh Peas, 2 lbs. 25c; Cucumbers (big) 10c each; Bell Peppers, 20c lb.; Bananas, 2 lbs. 29c; Strawberries (choice best) 30c basket, and the first corn on the cob I've seen. I asked and Mrs. Steif said, "Well, tell 'em I'm not givin' it away!" The address is Orange at "C" and the parking is free.

TOMATO BLIGHT EXPECTED THIS YEAR

By Vincent H. Schweers
Farm Advisor
Tomato growers can expect blight to show up again shortly. The State Department's bureau of entomology reported that the leafhoppers have migrated into Tulare county in somewhat larger numbers than were formerly expected.

The report indicated that there will be only one spring flight of leafhoppers as compared with three flights last spring. For this reason growers should dust their tomato fields as soon as possible.

The material recommended is 1½ pounds of actual DDT per acre if applied by ground equipment in the form of dust. Better results can be expected with a spray containing 1 pound actual DDT or about 3 gallons of a 5% mixture per acre put on by airplane.

TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral service was held last week for Elmer Hughes, dean of the college at Davis, who died suddenly in his office on Monday of last week.

FISH FOR FEATHERS

By Phil The Forester

About one half of the million people who buy fishing licenses in California each year will be out trying to fool the elusive trout into taking a bite of bait or a lure this Saturday when the season opens in most of the state.

Youngsters under 16 years of age require no license so the army of elders will be augmented by thousands of the hot rod and bicycle brigade. Parent-anglers should encourage their youngsters to go fishing or preferably take them along on a trip.

While the trout season will not open until May 26 in 14 Sierra and North Coastal counties, trout fishing will be legal in the following lakes within those counties starting this Saturday: Tahoe, Donner, Boca, Almanor, Bucks, Butt and Pillsbury.

Fishing hours are from one hour before sunrise until one hour after sunset except in Bucks Lake, Plumas county where night fishing for trout will be permitted.

Legal bag limit of trout this year will be 15 fish or ten pounds and one fish but regardless of weight an angler may possess at least three fish.

CATCHABLE SIZE PLANTED

Big catchable size "put and take" trout have just recently been planted in Big Creek, Madera county, the Kings river above Trimmer by the hatchery and the North and Middle forks of the Kaweah river.

Hume Lake should produce easy limits of carry over rainbow and then the lake will be restocked with catchables about two weeks after the opening and at regular two to three week intervals thereafter.

Floods wrecked the catchable size planting program for the Kern river watershed including Deer, Tyler, Spring and Pozo creeks and White river by washing out some 90,000 big rainbows that were being held at the hatchery for the opening plant. However, some carry over fish should be taken in this area and then the schedule calls for a "put and take" planting near the end of May.

Kerckhoff reservoir was planted last fall with 5,000 sub-catchables (about four inches) and it will be interesting to learn how many survived and how big they grew. Biologists will be on hand to make a creel census of the previously fin clipped trout.

Huntington and Shaver lakes are expected to produce good results and Shaver will be planted with big rainbows in mid-summer while Huntington is scheduled for catchable planting in late May or early June. The south fork of the Kings river is due for a planting the middle of June while the Tule river will have catchables stocked early next month.

Last March, the San Joaquin river below Friant and Lewis creek in Madera county which is a tributary of the Fresno river was planted with big rainbow.

Many of the low elevation streams and rivers are going to be difficult to recognize because of the winter floods but generally speaking the excess runoff will probably prove beneficial to the angler in new scoured out holes and more miles of banks cleared of brush. Many washed-out roads have not been repaired so drive carefully.

Chicken Feathers Used As Fertilizer

Scientists have found a use for waste chicken feathers, a product which has presented disposal problems to large poultry dressing plants. Feathers now can be processed into a valuable yard and garden fertilizer, according to information received by Farm Advisor W. F. Rooney of the University of California Agricultural Extension service from the United States department of agriculture.

In the process worked out by specialists at the Western Regional Research laboratory, the feathers are cooked with live steam, then are dried and ground into a meal or powder for packaging. The investigators figure that the processing and packaging costs run about $34 a ton, but that the fertilizer would sell for about $60 a ton, thus offering economic possibilities.

The new product has special value as a conditioning agent for inorganic mixed fertilizer. It tends to prevent caking. It also releases its nitrogen slowly and steadily. The product contains 12 to 15 percent nitrogen, about 1 percent of which is available to plants at once. The remainder is slowly released in the soil.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Whatever other business experience enjoyed by Commerce Secretary Sawyer, Washingtonians find ample evidence of his background running a large Midwest amusement park with emphasis on sideshows.

The secret conference with monopoly leaders at Sea Island, Ga., with the press barred, became the greatest peep show on earth.

As a Barker, he ballyhooed the greatest game of C. W. Harder chance on earth. His months of Pollyanna assurances that there were no shortages was a gamble with American lives and economy.

Now as a lusty tom-tom beater, Sawyer attempts to finance a half billion dollar plant for Aluminum Co. of Canada—Alcan—subsidiary of America's mammoth Alcoa, with American taxpayers' money.

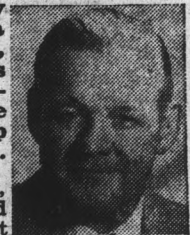

And thereby hangs the story of reported aluminum shortage.

In northeast states alone in just one industry 15,000 small firms with 150,000 employees face destruction. O. G. Norton, on behalf of Northeastern Roofing, Siding and Insulating Contractors Ass'n informs Senate Small Business Committee.

A proper understanding of this needless shortage and Sawyer's plan requires a brief look at history.

The committee headed by Rep. Celler (D.N.Y.) investigating the aluminum scandal has data showing that from 1888 to 1940 Alcoa and Alcan had almost a 100% worldwide monopoly.

Just prior to World War II Justice Dept. took partial steps to change the picture. Thus, in 1940 Reynolds entered the industry, started giving Alcoa limited competition.

But limited as this competition was, it was sufficient to bring down aluminum prices. The price which from 1929 to 1939 ranged from 20 to 24.3c per pound, dropped in 1941 to 16.5c; dropped during war years to 15c. Thus, aluminum was only major commodity on record to drop in price during the war.

Now, with a shortage alleged, the price has jumped to 19c. There will be more details on the situation next week.

In meantime it is important to bear in mind that Richard Reynolds, Jr. of Reynolds Metals has testified to Rep. Celler's Committee that Alcan, the Alcoa affiliate Sawyer wishes to aid with a half billion American dollars has been shipping aluminum to Russia's satellites.

It is known that the independent weekly and small daily press of America is the bulwark of American freedom of press. The request by the Administration to raise postal rates on newspapers, plus the so-called paper shortages is held by many to be a "squeeze play"; especially since some officials have already stated radio and television might come under strict government control.

Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman (D.Ala.) finds 9,000 weeklies, 750 small dailies use only 3% of newsprint. But newsprint consumption in 1949 was 5,529,206 tons, North American production 6,075,855 tons; 1950 consumption was 5,381,105 tons, production 6,317,000 tons. How can a shortage exist, committee wonders, when production exceeds consumption?
